The situation had reached its climax when Gen. Pershing arrived with his soldiers. He told them that the United States was really in the fight now, and that they did have every chance. He gave them the inspiring news that he was followed closely with a detachment of the best-trained fighters in the United States, and that his first detachment would be followed by others as fast as they could be transported.

17.—The entire French army had planned a strike and to refuse to continue a fight they believed could end only in extinction, and France was in danger of complete surrender, with terrible consequences to the Allies and the United States when Pershing arrived with the first contingent of the American army.

This was the remarkable story told today by bluejackets of transports which arrived yesterday. They declared that every effort had been made by Allied censors and by censors in the United States to prevent news of the situation from reaching the peoples of the bel-ligerent countries on the Allies'

According to the bluejackets, According to the bluejackets, the disaffection started in the first-line trenches. Men complained that they were throwing their lives away, with no hope in the world of eventual success. They openly sneered at the efforts of their officers and their statesmen to infuse them with a new martial spirit.

MUTINY SPREADS.

MUTINY SPREADS.

Every effort was made to curb the rebellious spirit of the men, but with no success, according to the bluestackets. The mutiny spread through the entire lines, including practically every regiment in the army of offense, and then included the army of occupation, as the supporting divisions are called.

The men had issued an ultimatum to the officers, declaring that they would not fight. They replied to threats of summary court-martial and death by bid-tion and started toward the craft. Orders were received from the flagship of the flotilla of warships convoying the transports to attack with grenades. These orders were carried out, but the submarine easily eluded the missiles, according to the sailors. Meanwhile the destroyers maneuvered to surround the enemy, which took to its heels, outdistancing the slower American craft.

It was then that a shot from one of the heavier ships in the flotilla hit the submarine at the base of the conning tower, carrying away tower and periscope and all. Other shots followed, some taking effect. The transports, their decks alive with men alarmed by the shots, ploughed along, through waves shimmering with oil and dotted with wreckage, and an occasional body, all that was left of the U-boat. The bluelackets declared that this was the only encounter of which they had heard on the trip over.

The strike so narrowly averted by the arrival of the American troops was the sole topic of conversation on the convoys on the return trip, the sailors said.

They were afraid that before the weight of the United States could be brought to bear effectively that the French might again, relapse into despair and really quit, causing not only their own destruction, but the destruction of the men in American uniforms left in France.

Speech of Chancellor Michaelis Today May End Weeks of Suspense.

THE Associated Press review says: With intense interest diverted for the moment from the fighting fronts, where there has been a noticeable slackening in hostilities, attention is focused on the convention Thursday afternoon of the German Reichstag.

At the epening session will be heard the first utterances of the new imperial Chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, concerning his stand on the war—utterances that naturally will be momentous, inasmuch as they will indicate whether, with the recent changes in the German government, Germany is to continue her warfare without abatement or whether the desires for peace that have been heard so often in Germany, and especially in the Reichstag, are anything but empty expressions.

The probable attitude of the Chancellor already has run the gamut of diverse speculation, but as yet nothing has been evolved from the many unofficial discussions of the man and his ideas and intentions on which anything like certainty can be based.

Some writers express the belief that the new Chancellor's leanings will be toward the peace views of the majority bloc in the Reichstag; others have advanced the opinion that his policy will be that of the militaristic party and there are others who consider the assumption of office merely a part of a siop-gap programme preliminary to the formation, of something in the Japan, Serbia and Italy have treaties with this country which specifically provide that their nationals shall not be drafted into American armies against their wishes unless they have finally renounced their citizenship to the lands of their nativity. Inasmuch as Italy and Japan don't recognize the right of a citizen to change his nationality the treaties virtually prohibit drafting of any persons born in either of those two countries.

The treaties with other Allied governments do not cover the question of conscription in the cases of those who have taken out first papers, but it is generally understood that none of the other powers will object if the United States takes their nationals in under the draft providing they have taken out first papers.

reported sunk by a German U-boat, was saved from destruction by an American destroyer which was convoying her through the danger zone, according to members of her crew who arrived here today from England on an American ship.

The Cranmore was attacked, they said, June 7, about 180 miles west of Ireland, five of her plates being stove in by a torpedo. The U-boat that fired it did not appear and did not press the attack, owing to the presence of the American warship. Under the protection of the destroyer, the vessel was able to proceed to an Irish port under her own steam.

WASHINGTON, July 18 .- Senate nsideration of the administration food control bill, begun a month ago today, is approaching an end. Voting upon amendments began today and tomorrow discussion will proceed, under a ten-minute limit, toward the final vote to be taken Saturday.

Only one amendment was disposed of today but that, relating to sales by government agents of their own products to the government, has been before the Senate almos exclusively for a week. POMERENE'S STATEMENT.

During the discussion Senator Pomerene declared no serious criticism could be lodged against the council'e advisory commission and that its usefulness should not be crippled by passage of the original committee amendment, which its opponents predicted might prevent the prominent men who have been serving as commissioners without pay from continuing in their positions. Senator Reed and others insisted that all that was sought was to prevent contracts for their own supplies from being controlled by the commissioners. The accepted amendment provides:

"That no person acting either as a voluntary or paid agent or employee of the United States in any capacity, shall solicit, induce or attempt to induce any person or officer authorized to execute or to direct the execution of contracts on behalf of the United States, to make any contract or give any order for the furnishing to the United States. The prisoner, who was sentenced to a year in jail on a charge of disorderly conduct, probably will be the subject of a Federal grand jury investigation.

Knapp's purpose in spreading the story, it is said, was to profit financially from sympathy he aroused by claiming to be one of the survivors of the "battle." He was dishonorably discharged from the United States steamer Hancock in 1909. ter to American warships,

Another conference will be held omorrow. The Shipping Board, Chairman Denman said, wants more nformation before it approves the general manager's programme, but Gen. Goethals said he thought he had submitted most of the information asked for.

Neither side will say what are the points of difference over the programme. Chairman Denman intimates that all disagreements would be settled satisfactorily.

"There are no personal differences," he said, "only one of policy.
I know of no difficulties that could not be adjusted between two rational persons, each willing to concede to

of opinion."

The only question, it is understood, on which the board and Gen. Goethals are now far apart is that of wooden construction. Although Gen. The general himself asked about rumors of his resignation merely said: "I am a soldier and a man is my position appointed to a place virus."

THIRTY-THREE-MILLION-DOLLAR ARMY CONTRACT.

One Firm Alone will Provide Twelve Millions in Motor Trucks for the Army-Six Companies will Put Out the Entire Order-Motorcycles are Included in Contracts Coming Due in One Year.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 18.—Contracts for $33,179,026 worth of motorcycles for army duty were awarded by the War Department today on bids submitted recently at the quartermaster's depot in Chicago. This is by all odds the largest single motor vehicle order ever given by the United States Army.

The trucks and motorcycles will be used as part of the equipment of the fighting forces in France and for transportation in the army concentration camps before the troops are sent across.

By the terms of their contracts the truck builders have undertaken to deliver a total of 10,650 trucks before July 1, 1918. The bulk of the huge order, however, is promised before December 1, or in a little least than four months.

Although eighty-one manufacturers, virtually every large motor truck concern in the United States, were represented in the bidding, the orders went to only six. Of these the Four Wheel Drive Company of Clintonville, Wig, gets the largest, a little matter of $12,180,000, and the Nash Motors Company of Kenocha, Wis, runs second, with a total of 33,415,000. Both these concerns build trucks which drive on all four wheels, a type of construction which has found high favor with the army authorities.

The awards in detail are as folthe opposing forces occurred on Troitsky bridge, where the Cossacks met a body of armed demonstrants. The Cossacks were armed only with sabres. A brisk fire was opened by the insurrectionists, whereupon the Cossacks field up Littering Prospekt, many of them abandoning their horses. Several Cossacks and twelve horses were killed.

Later a brush between armed government troops and Maximalists over eriment troops and Maximalists over equival distant with the petrograd garrison and most of the Petrograd garrison and most of the armored motor car detachments are supporting the government. A matchinegum regiment stationed at St. Rielna has signified its willingness to come to the government's aid.

POLOTSEFF'S ACTION.

[BY ALLEY AND A. P.]

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The plan for designating regiments of the war armies by number and branches of service only will be modified, it was announced tonight, so that it will be possible to determine from the number itself whether the regiment is a part of the regular army, the National Guard or the national army. Under the plan the regulars will be mumbered upward, as now, from the First Cavalry, First Infantry, etc.

the remarkable series of near-disasters in Southern California in the past few days served to further convince the authorities that these several events were separate units of a single I.W.W. plot to start a reign of terror in Southern California and to disintegrate the local military by making it necessary to send troops to widely-separated points. To the partial destruction by fire of the partial destruction by fire of the simultaneous wrecking of a train in simultaneous wrecking of a train in the same neighborhood, the attempt to destroy the aqueduct by dynamite charges placed at two points far apart, and a mysterious effort to cripple the Santa Monica water supply by damaging the reservoirs—all taking place within a few hours of each other.

a well-known fact to all who know the gas business.

Figures were produced to show that the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company has been using more natural gas in the manufacture of artificial gas in the manufacture of artificial gas than is required by its consumers. Attorney Overton, representing the company, merely denied that there was any loss by such an operation, and referred the committee to the records in the hands of the Board of Public Utilities.

The following statement, giving a comprehensive explanation of the gas problem, was made by Mr. Macbeth:

The only natural gas available, other than gas the Economic Gas Company may control, is piped from the Midway-Sunset fields, and the Pullerton fields, to a maximum amount of approximately 30,000,000 cubic feet per day, but we cannot count on receiving continuously more than 25,000,000 cubic feet the maximum amount of gas as the maximum amount of gas as the maximum amount of operations continuously more than 25,000,000 cubic feet daily.

However, he said, such contracts are subject to certain conditions, the most important of which is that the company will depend upon the sumount the Railroad Commission will determine necessary for domestic consumers.

In response to invitations by the Council committee, representatives of the Liewellyn Iron works and the Moreland Truck Company were present. It was expected they would make statements to the effect that it was because of the laft and tripods have been necessary for the most and the power companies, but the firm transits and tripods as a committee of the Public Service Commission and asked for the loan of instrument for five weeks. He stated that the transits and tripods have been necessary for the weeks. He stated that the transits and tripods have been necessary for the work and the power companies, but more were needed. The result was heater industrial concerns are receiving gas at the 15-cent rate. Both of them declared that the question of gas had not entered into the matter. Clune's Auditorium.

Following this week's presentation of Bessle Barriscale in "The Snarl" at Clune's Auditorium, the offering at that theater next week will be "The Hand that Rocks the Cradle," a picture produced by Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley. The story deals with the subject of birth control and for that reason alone will probably be a sensation.

Mollie King is never uninteresting,

Mollie King is never uninteresting, but she is proving especially attractive in "Blind Man's Luck," the big drawing card at Tally's Broadway Theater this week. Next week's feature at Tally's will be an elaborate production of the famous old play "Caste," with Peggy Hyland and Sir John Hare as the featured players.

Palace.

Baby Marie Osborne, whose business in life seems to be to inspire the grown-ups to smile, appears to great advantage at the Palace this week in a sunshine play called "When Baby Forgot."

Next week's attraction will be "The Mystic Hour," starring Alma Hanlon, the principal feminine lead in "The Whip."

Alhambra.
Following "Big Timber," the virile story in which Kathlyn Williams and Wallace Reid are entertaining Alhambra patrons this week, the Alhambra management has secured for next week a story by Eve Unsell called "Forbidden Pathe" in which Vivian Martin and Sessue Hayakawa will have the leading roles.
"Forbidden Paths" is said to be a story which throws a new light on the character of the Japanese people.

THE PLAN TO END WARS.

It should be remembered that the "World-embracing Plan to End Wars" was projected before the existing war broke out, and before there was any talk or thought of war. Its creation was the offspring of a conviction in the mind of the author that the peoples of civilized nations—the several trying to destroy each other by force of arms, ought to go into court, like civilized men, to settle unnegotiable disputes. This particular plan-the World-embrac-

Viscount Bryce considers the present time opportune to bring forward his suggestions for a league of nations to maintain peace and it is very properly insisted by many British advocates that Germany should not be excluded from such a league. The Russian revolutionists include arbitration tribunals in their programmes for future

Charles Evans Hughes, William H. Taft, Nicholas Murray Butler, S. K. Ratcliffe and a long list of representative men from evwas long ago presented and urged by Mr. Taft and his compeers, for a league among nations to secure:
(1.) An international court of justice established by a world conference and sustained by public opinion. (2.) An international council of concilia

(3.) A world conference meeting regularly to support the court and council, and to interpret and expand international law. (4.) A permanent continuation commit-tee of the world conference.

There may be said to be a world concurrence in the project of forming a world peace league, and there are but two subpeace league, and there are but two sub-jects to be considered in such connection. and the other is the limitation to be placed upon its powers when it shall be formed. To attempt the formation of such a league before the termination of the present war would be simply to perpetuate the present conditions of a league or alliance hand, and an alliance between England, France, Russia, Italy and the United States on the other hand. It would result in two leagues, neither of them peace leagues and both of them war leagues. The present belligerents will have many questions to settle—questions of boundaries, questions of indemnities, questions which pertain to the future commercial and in-dustrial relations of the several warring peace league ought to take no part in the settlement of these questions. As soon as they are settled it should begin its existence and not until then, for its mission will be to prevent future wars and not to interfere with the existing conflict. It may be that many of these questions can not be settled except upon terms prescribed by the conqueror and acquiesced in by the conquered, and sooner or later there must be a conqueror and a conquered, or else, as it not likely, a peace resulting from mu-

When the peace league shall be in operation it should deal with international law and international rights and obligations only. With domestic differences in the states comprising its membership, its court of justice, its council of concilia-tion, its congress and its officers should rigidly refuse to interfere, even by suggestion, unless requested to do so by all the parties to the difference.

Its membership would consist of repub lies, empires, kingdoms, principalities and all forms of government. It should be able to say to China, "Become a republic, or revert to a kingdom, as your people choose," and to Turkey, "Remain a despotism, or adopt a constitutional government, as your people choose," and to Germany, "Be gov-erned by a Reichstag or dominated by a collern, as your choose. The Nation of Nations will not interfere with your local form or your local administration of govern-ment. Maintain all the troops you need for you need to have, and pass and enforce such laws for the government of your own people, as you choose. The Nation of Nations will not attempt to dictate to you in any way except in matters relating to your rights upon the high seas, or your relaof other nations, and, on such subjects, before the International Court of Justice, the mational Council of Conciliation, or the World Congress, Switzerland will be the equal of the United States, and Ecuador the equal of Germany. The army of the Nation of Nations would be made up of men contributed proportionately by the member nations, and if, as is most unlikely, its services should be required against a member, the troops contributed by that member would not, as a measure of policy, be included in the expeditionary force sent to enforce the decree of the National Court. Council, or Congress.

The cost of conducting the Nation of Na members proportionally or equitably, would be the veriest trifle. When the dynamite bombs shall no longer be dropped, when the submarines shall be come carriers of passengers and freight, when the soldiers shall emerge from the trenches and the war drums cease to throb, the Nation of Nations will be formed. The subject of its formation was discussed recently by seventy able speakers at the five-day national conference of the New York Academy of Political Science at Long Beach, N. Y., educators, publicists, diplomats, lawyers, sociologists, editors and business men of international reputation gave exceptional value to the programme The assemblage of three or four hundred delegates and guests represented leadership in every walk of life. Speakers and auditors alike were able to learn things at this conference—which may be considered the highest compliment to its quality. Its influence must be widespread. The "World Court" says of this gathering. "No one could listen to the discussions without realizing how seriously Americans face a new world-responsibility. Thought To Cut Loose.

Somehow reference to previous unfitness, to faults of national arrogance, to shortage of fundamental democratic achievement, or to pursuits of inconsistent national ideals med less important than usual. Everybody appears to be a bit inconsistent with war on, anyhow. The big fact is that there is no returning to the international status quo after this war."

THE SHORTAGE OF LABOR. The future of democracy, and with it the future of civilization itself, is menaced by a shortage of labor in the countries from which the Allies must draw their supplies. The United States is falling away behind its possible maximum production by reason worker from the land.

France solved its industrial labor problem with commendable promptness by importing hundreds of thousands of Orientals to take the place of the workmen now fighting so gallantly on the western front. Two hundred thousand Chinese laborers are now harvesting crops in Southe France and Algeria and another hundred thousand are on the way to aid in the fall planting. These laborers each sign an agreement that they will re-embark for the Orient within one year after the close of the war. The government will assume the task of returning them to their native

France has its union labor problem and its "yellow peril;" but patriotism is strong in France than the greed of the union labor despots. Her government has hesitated to make use of the available labor units "without reference to race, color or previous condition of servitude." doing so she has pointed to the United States the way to solve its problem of ripened crops rotting in the fields, of a million acres of fallow land lying idle, transportation lines clogged because there is no coal for the engines, and of a produc tion that threatens to fall below the pres ent year's level when another million of our already hopelessly inadequate labor supply are withdrawn from industry to fol low the road to France.

Despite reams of glittering generalities this country is not doing its part so long as it does not make use of available units of labor wherever they are to be had in order to furnish to our Allies the suppl which they must have to bring the present war to a successful conclusion. Supply valued at millions of dollars are going to waste in California this summer because labor is not available to harvest the ripened crops. We have taken a nasty fall at the first hurdle. The Chinese Exclusion Act, a barrier of our own making, keeps a million acres of highly productive land idle on the Pacific Coast while a million Chinese and Japanese laborers rest in idle ness on the other side of the barrier. A crime against democracy is being committed that is almost without a parallel in the history of free countries. ruined last spring because laborers could not be secured to thin and cultivate the growing plants. A prominent sugar beet grower has estimated that 4000 laborers are needed, in addition to the present available supply, in order to harvest the beets already grown.

Millions of bushels of wheat are going to waste in the Middle West and the Fa West because the men and the machiner are not to be had to harvest the already ripened crops. Reports from the western railroads are to the effect that a serious fuel shortage threatens. The roads are not able to renew their present contracts for oil by reason of the increas-ing shortage in that product. They desire to return to the use of coal; but men are not available to work in the mines. Every day the situation grows worse. State, county and Federal defense committees continue to hold meetings and talk learnedly about government regulation and government price fixing, but they scurry for cover like frightened rabbits when the suggestion is made that they recommend to Congress a modification of the Chinese Exclusion Act that will permit laborers to populate and cultivate the acres. There has been a steadily increasing shortage of farm labor on the Pacific Coast for several years. The average American workman prefers the city to the country. He will work in the city for enough to keep body and soul together, rather than go into the country where he will be well fed, will have steady employment, but will have none of the night life that the great centers of population offer. In California this defect was in part supplied by Mexican from California back to their native soil rather than register under the Federal conscription act. They conceived the idea that to register meant that they would be forced to serve in the United States Army. This misunderstanding cost California and Arizona at least 10,000 laborers at a time when their services are sorely needed. California industrial districts could assimilate 100,000 oriental laborers within the next sixty days without affecting the labor market in the

Sam Gompers in Washington and Walter McArthur in San Francisco are intimidating the Wilson administration to the extent that the Democratic majority in Congress is afraid to act. These union labor despots are gloating over the condition which the Geary Act has produced. While there is a shortage of labor in the mines osses are shackling with ball and chain the mining industry. When a western shipbuilder seeks government contracts they promptly threaten to tie up his shipyards indefinitely unless he yields to the despotism of the closed shop.

These despots care nothing about the national defense. They are actuated solely by the hope of what they can get out of the war in the way of shorter hours and more pay for union labor. They are striving their utmost to continue the present labor stringency, caring nothing that the cause of liberty and humanity is suffering thereby, so long as they and their retainers can get something out of it. While the President is marshalling the forces of the republic to combat a military despotism in Europe he is aiding by his irresolution in the establishment of a despotism within the republic at home as unscrupt arbitrary and as great an enemy of democ racy as the House of Hohenzollern itself. Our republic is not keeping faith with its own allies so long as it maintains the artificial barrier which will make produc tion grow steadily less, by reason of the industrial units that are withdrawn for service at the front, when it is within our power to remove those barriers with a single stroke of the pen. The Geary Act is

I don't know I don't know it, and if me and God can't run the Fatherland and two or three motherlands without stirring up a nest of knockers it seems blamed funny.

Of course, Fred may be all right in time, but he is a sort of bum performer so far and we may as well let things run as they are. He and Von Limburger are looking after the army game and if they think they are the real Cohens why should I disturb them?

Do you know Dock Michaelis? He's a sort of a good scout, and will stand perfectly still without hitching. He is a good man to have on the team. We use him for pinchitting and in exhibition games. He will stay on the job until the next shake-up. We will have these turnovers every little while in order to divert the popular mind from other matters. We expect to give our German friends a double-decked Reichstag, like your own Congress, and we'll let 'em play with a constitution, but they will have to wish, and work, and pay, and promise first. Then when they do get what we intend to give 'em they'll be putting up my statue in the park as the original Santa Claus of the Fatherland. Then if I want to play a joke on the Crown Prince I will proclaim a republic, and on the strength of my "reforms" I would be elected first president of the same. Then we would find out what Freddie would do if he had to hustle for himself.

I hear that some of your folks are blaming the war on me. Why,

I hear that some of your folks are blaming the war on me. Why, I didn't have any more to do with it than Napoleon had with the bat-tle of Waterloo. It would have-happened just the same if I had been locked up in the cellar with

Of course, I want peace. I want a piece of everything in sight. When you've got a thing you keep it, don't you?—at least most everything but the mumps. I can't see how you people can have a grudge ekainst me. I never did much of anything to you. When we are shooting up the high seas why don't you bolt yourselves behind your home doors and keep out of range? Gee! but your man Wilson is an unreasonable guy. He seems to think that Americans have rights outside of their own country. He must have read that on the funny pages. Wants to make the world safe for a case of beer.

I am glad to hear from you, but I am sorry I cannot comply with your request. The millinery trade does not appeal to me at all. If you write me again enclose a couple barrels of sauer kraut as an evidence of good faith.

Regardlessly yours, Regardlessly yours,

WILLIAM [X] HOHENZOLLERN,

The country has already done more than the most sanguine American could have hoped for under the circumstances. It is apparent that American soldiers will be kept moving across the Atlantic almost as fast as equipment, transportation and constant supplies can be provided for them. Much sooner than we had any right to expect American troops will be carrying the Stars and Stripes to victories on the battle front worthy of honorable place among the great Ally successes.—[Cleveland Leader.

It is about time for the pessimists to begin talk of the grain crops in the Inland Empire burning up for lack of rain. I have had a lot of trouble in getting my mail from your country and even your man Wilson had to write his notes by wire. I should think you would commence to kick about it at your end of the line.

I don't see why you should want me to leave a substantial family job for a doubtful speculation. I have seven husky children to take care of as well as a brood of grandchildren, and a man's first duty is supposed to be to his family. My old man trained me for the job and I learned to eat with a sword when I was a pup. It may not be so much of a jump from the military to millinery, but I always thought I was a bum ladies' man and if I get out of the king row I think I would rather take the German agency for mein alten freund, Herr Heinrich Ford. Millinery is staple stuff, but is not in my line and the delicatesan husiness is over-

But why should I quit at all?

No account Von Bestman Boll-Weevil has stopped his chancelloring and there has been a shake-up in the Foreign Office, but it has all been in the direction of making a smoother passage for myself. The fellows now on the job all agree with me—in fact, if they didn't they wouldn't be there. Of course, the K. P. is beginning to feel his oats—I don't mean the Knights of Pythias, but the kron prinz. He has learned to carry a toadstaber and change his uniform three times a day and is entitled to sit in the game. Even if he is a slob he is my oldest son and when I quit you bet your life he gets the job. I might arrange to leave the place with that understanding, but I can't figure it as an improvement. SAILORS' CAMP QUARANTINED.

San Diego to Prevent Spread of Spinal Meningitis.

Medical Experts from North Called to the Scene.

Disease is Said to Have been Contracted in Chicago.

As a preventative measure against spinal meningitis in the navy, the task of taking throat and 1700 apprentice seamen now stationed at the Naval Training Camp in Balboa Park, San Diego, has been begun by that city's health depart-

In the past month a number of cases have developed among the men sent from Goat Island, and one death resulted. In all, Dr. A. E. Banks, health officer, reports there have been sixteen cases at the training camp and three from the cruiser San Diego. As preventative measures were taken at once by Capt. W. D. Brotherton, commandant, and Health Officer Banks, the situation is said to be well in hand.

A quarantine of the training camp and the sailors went into effect last the investigation. At the invitation of Dr. Banks and Dr. Kelly, Prof. H. K. Meyer, associate professor of tropical medicine at the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research, San Francisco, will reach San Diego tomorrow to consult with Dr. H. A. Thompson, city bacteriologist, relative to the research work being carried on among the Naval Training camp men now in quarantine.

One hundred men were subjected

One hundred men were subjected to the throat and nose examination Wednesday, and the department expects to take cultures each succeeding day of from 100 to 200 seamen until the entire brigade shall have been examined and all carriers detected and segregated from their fellows.

According to Dr. Banks other training stations have been quite slow in taking on this research work and, as a consequence, a sericus situation developed before active preventative measures were establehed. There was an outbreak of meningitis in the naval training camp in Chicago and several exposed were sent to Mare Island, later to Goat Island and then to the San Diego camps.

RIVERSIDE, July 18. - Dr. Horace Porter, until recently pastor of the First Congregational Church, of the First Congregational Church, today announced his candidacy for the office of Mayor at the November election, and is the first avowed candidate in the field.

Dr. Porter, in announcing his candidacy, says, among other things: "I stand for an absolutely independent administration, having behind me no organization whatever, and no ring, and determined that the humblest citizen shall have as fair a show as the mightiest, and the smallest man or woman, struggling for an honest livelihood, shall have as kindly a hearing as the biggest business or corporation; simple fairness and justice to all."

MAR PLANS TO BE

Close Touch with Government's Preparedness Programme, will Give Their Experiences-Wives

Personal experiences of leading Los Angeles citizens in the government's vast plans in preparing for war will be told at the smoker at the Chamber of Commerce tonight. This function also will be in the nature of a housewarming for the 1000 new members recently added. Incidentally, wives and friends of members who are interested in the national military and commercial affairs are invited to be guests of the chamber and will be given an opportunity to inspect the newly-arranged offices and exhibit.

Among the speakers will be Nelson Rhoades, chairman of the trade extension committee of the chamber, who has hele extensive conferences in Washington with the National Shipping Board. He will tell something of the plans for a greater merchant marine in the campaign for foreign trade that will be waged by the government.

J. B. Lippincott will speak of the vast engineering projects that have come under the supervision of the government with the declaration of War.

Musical entertainment will be fur-Personal experiences of leading

BIG DREDGE IS READY TO START.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.) EL CENTRO, July 18.—W. H. EL CENTRO, July 18.—W. H. Brown of this city, an expert of the Holton Power Company, and another expert from Riverside, have sone to Yuma and Hanlon's heading to superintend the starting of the mammoth electric suction dredge recently installed there. The first attempt to operate the dredge falled because of motor trouble, but a new motor has been installed and adjustments made, and it is now believed the plant will operate satisfactorily. The big dredges will be operated by electricity, and will be kept constantly at work, taking the silt from the heading and canal, and keeping the channel free at all times.

COLE SHOT IN SELF-DEFENSE.

r-slayer Exonerated by Coroner's Jury.

The four youths who indirectly caused the death of Ramon Castro at Sherman on the night of July 3, were brought before Justice Hinshaw yesterday to stand trial on a charge of manslaughter. They had made a dynamite bomb, dropped it in the Sherman ball park and run away. Castro went to see what they had left behind and arrived just in time to be blown to pieces.

The hearing was not completed. The boys are Max Watt, Earl Bottomfield, Herbert Larsen and Roy Colins. In the event the manslaughter charge be not sustained, they will be accused of illegally transporting a high explosive. But District Attorney has Complaint Drawn,

That Firman opened fire upon entering the room was testified to by Mrs Minnie Carmichael, who was visiting Mrs. Flora Harris, proprietor of the Wallace apartments.

Mrs. Harris testified to the same effect and further stated that upon forcing his way into the room Firman used a vile epithet.

Mrs. M. E. Firman, widow of the dead man, testified to a number of facts contradictory to the statements of Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Harris. She also denied that her husband had a gun in his hand when he entered the room, and asserted that Cole opened fire first. Her testimony was verified in most of the essentials by C. D. French, except that French could not positively state whether Firman had a revolver or a flashlight in his hand upon entering the apartment.
